

University of Groningen Summer Schools

Think, Share, Contribute and Enjoy!

The University of Groningen (1614) is hosting a wide range of summer schools. Summer schools are a wonderful way to bring bright students and inspired researchers together to work intensively on important topics. Our summer schools are research-driven, and many of them are multidisciplinary, offering you a varied range of perspectives. We will especially highlight the University's priority research themes: Energy, Healthy Ageing and Sustainable Society.

Our academics will open up their networks for you and bring in international counterparts and external stakeholders. We invite you to bring in your knowledge and ambitions, and to share your experiences and questions. By thinking and sharing, we may be able to contribute to major societal issues and reach out to others, both locally and globally. And we will all enjoy it!

Registration is open now. Have a look at our current offer!
